

Gwinnett Innovation Park Highlights AquaPR in Honor of 2nd Annual Women Entrepreneurs Day in Georgia

Atlanta – March 21, 2011 - Gwinnett Innovation Park, (www.gwinnettinnovationpark.com) a dynamic and affordable environment for new and growing companies, is highlighting AquaPR and its founder and managing partner, Sharon Cuppett, in honor of the second annual Women Entrepreneurs Day in Georgia. The Women Entrepreneurs Day pays tribute to Georgia's 278,250 women business owners who generate $40.5 billion in revenue annually and employ more than 229,000 people statewide.

For more than 20 years, Gwinnett Innovation Park has helped provide metro-Atlanta and Gwinnett entrepreneurs and new and growing businesses the resources to grow and succeed including AquaPR, a boutique agency specializing in helping technology companies, combines traditional public relations, social media and online marketing into an integrated communications strategy. Led by industry veteran Sharon Cuppett, AquaPR is a resident company of Gwinnett Innovation Park.

"As an entrepreneur, AquaPR has benefited from the business expertise at Gwinnett Innovation Park. The camaraderie and networking with other entrepreneurs provides a unique sounding board for our fast growing company," said Cuppett. "With a team which includes multiple teleworkers, GIP has provided the right mix of professional meeting space and flexible team work space."

AquaPR specializes in synchronizing activities across multiple platforms, in accordance with the ever-changing delivery of information to consumers and businesses. With expertise in marketing strategies, product and service launches, establishing a brand position and increasing market share in existing or emerging markets, AquaPR provides technology companies with a strategic marketing partner.

"Women entrepreneurs are a powerful force in the metro-Atlanta area. Sharon is a great example of a successful women entrepreneur. Her team leverages today's technology to provide companies both large and small with a powerful marketing solution," said Marcy Powers, manager of Gwinnett Innovation Park.

Gwinnett Innovation Park provides entrepreneurs with access to office and manufacturing space, telecommunication and network infrastructure, a community of entrepreneurs, business advice and planning and a network of professional service.
